Daniel B. Garrie, Esq. is a mediator, arbitrator, and Special Master selected by counsel and appointed by courts in complex disputes throughout the United States. He is an experienced jurist with a deep understanding of law and technology, as it applies to a variety of practices and industries, enabling him to resolve efficiently and cost-effectively some of the most challenging disputes. Daniel possesses exceptional communication skills, is a good listener, and is impartial. These qualities enable him to assist parties in settling matters by creating a trusting, understanding, and respectful environment that allows for open and honest communication. Further, he identifies and addresses the underlying issues of a dispute and finds original solutions that meet the needs and interests of all parties involved.

Over the past 20 years, Daniel has been appointed and appeared before the Los Angeles County Superior Court, New York Supreme Court, Delaware Supreme Court, and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second, Third, and Seventh Circuits. Judges and attorneys laud him for his clarity, focus, and ability to help parties settle even the most complex disputes. He has garnered a national reputation for his experience at the intersection of technology and the law. He is as comfortable talking with entrepreneurs, IT professionals, and developers as with lawyers and judges. Most recently, Mr. Garrie was appointed and served as the Special Master for In Re: Facebook, Inc.

Consumer Privacy User Profile Litigation.

Daniel is a popular speaker on cybersecurity, forensics, eDiscovery, fintech, and blockchain. He has also authored over 400 legal and technical articles and publications. His scholarship has been recognized by several Supreme Court Justices and cited in over 500 articles, publications, and opinions.

Daniel began teaching in 2008, where he was an Adjunct Professor, teaching data governance and cybersecurity at Cardozo School of Law and Rutgers School of Law. He teaches Cybersecurity Law, Cryptocurrency and Smart Contracts, and Computer Forensics classes at Harvard University.

In addition to being a distinguished Neutral at JAMS, Daniel is a Partner at Law & Forensics, a global cybersecurity, eDiscovery, and forensics consulting firm he founded in 2008. Before joining JAMS, Daniel built and sold several technology companies and served as the Worldwide Director of Discovery & Information Governance at Charles River Associates.
